Dear Garry,

Wow! Pool water got up to 25 (75) degrees here in sunny Southern England yesterday!
It only hit that once all summer last year on hottest day of the year.

That solar panel is amazing.

My husband turned it on yesterday, and the water was so hot pouring into the pool, he couldn't leave his hand there. He said it felt like boiling hot kettle water!

We are so far totally delighted with this solar panel, easy to install, runs through our existing filter no problem and makes swimming more pleasurable for everyone. It was already 22 degrees at 7am this morning! We're used to it dropping to 16 or 17 degrees overnight so it also retained yesterday's heat!

Marvellous. Just wanted to send you a quick note!

Thanks,

Linda
